

Dialaround Ent, Inc. used some fraudulent tactics on a pre paid long distance card. It did not inform you of time limits and made no mention when the allotted minutes were used up. Instead charged $142.46 in long distance charges that I was not aware of. I was also charged a $12.76 service fee to my bill. I do not even have long distance service. There was no mention of charge back or service charge to my phone bill nor did I give any permission. They used fraudulent tactics to charge costs to my phone without my notification. I feel I was scammed by this company. In contact with the company, the representatives treated me unfairly. Thank you
